

Mind Your Mail

While many people are moving their communication online, snail mail is not yet a thing of the past. So, take a moment to review how safe your mail is.

A few reminders about keeping your mail safe:

- Use a secure box for both incoming and outgoing mail, especially mail containing payments or billing/account information
- Have someone pick up your mail or place a hold on your mail while on vacation
- Empty your mailbox regularly – don't let it overflow
- Opt out of credit card offers

Remember, receiving eStatements can keep your mailbox safer because your statements no longer arrived through the postal mail. Learn more about eStatements!
